A GOOD SUGGESTION

Give the boy something practical; open a small savings account for him with us: teach him to build this account.

You can't teach the boys habits of thrift and economy any too early. Let him form a habit of saving while young and as he grows the habit and the bank account will both grow. A great many of the boys of yesterday are the financial powers of today. Perhaps your boy may be a power later on, if you start his account today.
